

Introduction to Web Development Training

Day1

Date: 23 June 2025

The Web Development Training session on Day 1 focused on understanding the core structure of HTML and the importance of semantic layout elements. Participants explored the basic building blocks of web pages, including headers, sections, articles, and footers. The session also introduced best practices for writing clean, organized HTML code and preparing for the integration of CSS for styling.

Additionally, learners were guided on how to structure a webpage effectively using containers and the Bootstrap grid system. Hands-on exercises helped reinforce concepts by creating responsive layouts and practicing with various HTML tags and attributes.
